

Stonefield and Sage team up

Written by Vera Alves
Thursday, 30 April 2009

Stonefield Query database reporting software is now more readily available in the Pacific region.

Stonefield Software and Sage Business Solutions have signed a distribution deal in Australia, New Zealand and the Pacific Islands to expand the reach of Stonefield Query.

Under the terms of the agreement, Sage Business Solutions will distribute certain Stonefield Query products throughout Australia, New Zealand, Fiji, Papua New Guinea, the Solomon Islands, Vanuatu and Tonga.

The new Australasian agreement builds on Stonefield's growth in the US and Canada, and expands its presence into the Australian and New Zealand region.

Stonefield Software believes that the sales generated from this distribution agreement will be significant to its total international revenues: "We're excited that companies outside of the North American market will now be able to realise the incredible time-saving and ease of use benefits of Stonefield Query with their existing Sage software," said Mickey Kupchyk, CEO of Stonefield Software.

"Whether they're in New York, New Zealand or Adelaide, under-the-gun executives need information right now to make critical decisions. They can't afford to wait on programmers to create the specialised reports they need today," he added.

"Time is in ever-shorter supply, and that's what Stonefield Query gives back to its busy users," commented Mike Lorge, Managing Director of Sage Business Solutions, Australia and New Zealand. "We're confident that Stonefield Query will be of interest to our customers, since it makes reporting easier for Sage Software clients. We are very pleased to represent Stonefield and have this innovative and customer-focused company as one of our Sage Software Development Partners."